PRESIDENT'S VETO IS OVERRULED

The House Passes Two Important Pension Bills.

CLOSED DOORS IN THE SENATE

Nearly the Entire Session Given to Consideration of the Arbitration Treaty .. The House Agrees to Conference Report on the Immigration Bill and Passes Several Measures of Importance.

Washington, Feb. 9.-Today as yesterday the senate spent nearly the whole time of its session in wrestling behind closed doors over the arbitration treaty. At 1 o'clock the galleries were cleared and the consideration of the treaty entered upon.

During the transaction of the routine business the concurrent resolution in-troduced yesterday by Mr. Pettigrew. withdrawing from the president a bill passed by both houses in relation to the timber culture law was taken up and passed. Mr. Hill (Dem., N. Y.), who had first questioned its legality, remarked that that question could be considered when the bill again came before the senate, if the president should re-

A resolution was agreed to instructing the judiciary committee to make inquiry in the matter of Mr. Amidon, whose nomination as district judge in North Dakota is before the senate for confirmation.

A joint resolution was offered looking to the payment of some $57,000 to employes of the government printing of-fice for leave of absence which they did not have since 1887.

CLEVELAND OVERRULED.

President Cleveland was overruled by the house today in the matter of vetoes of two pension bills. They were for the benefit of Rachel Patton and Caroline Mowatt, widows of soldiers who had remarried and lost their second husbands. The bills were vetoed on the ground that their passage would establish a dangerous precedent. Mr. Sulloway (Rep., N. H.) in charge of one of the bills asserted that the president had already approved thirteen similar bills, so that the precedent was pretty well established. The bill to pension Rachel Patton was passed by a vote of 137 to 60, and Caroline Mowatt by

After a brief debate the conference report on the immigration bill was agreed to, 217 to 37. This makes the third distinct proposition on that subject that the house has passed.

Senate amendments were concurred in to the bill giving preference rights for purchases under the homestead law, or at private entry to bona fide purchasers of swamp lands voted to the estate of Mississippi in aid of the construction of the Mobile and Ohio railroad and afterwards restored to the public domain.

Under the call of committees the following measures were passed;

Joint resolution to elect John Marshall Browne, of Maine, a member of the board of governors of the National Soldiers' homes; senate bill providing for the promotion of passed assistant surgeons in the navy; house bill imposing a penalty for the unauthorized or misleading use of the word "copy

A delegation of lumber men from Michigan were at the capitol today to enter their protest against the reported tee in increasing the rate of duty on white pine lumber. A number of Michigan lumbermen, it apears, have pur chased extensive stumping privileges in Canada and they fear that the Canadian government will take offense at the increase and retaliate by placing a tax on stumping privileges.

CAREER OF JOHN D. LONG.

Biographical Sketch of the Next Secretary of the Navy. John D. Long, of Massachusetts, who has accepted the secretaryship of the navy under McKinley, was bern in Buckfield, Me., October 27, 1838, and went through the village school so fast that at 12 he was sent away from home to continue his studies in Hebron academy, and at 14 was at the gates of Harvard university. He was admitted. and, in spite of heavy "conditions," never dropped below fourth in his class, and through his senior year stood second.

He was the poet of his class, and wrote many college songs for special occasions. When he graduated in 1857 nails. The next transaction was the he had the honor of writing the class ode. His lyric bent was continued in later life. One of his volumes was entitled "Bites of a Cherry." He did not iron water pipe to Ward Davenport, of dream then that some day he would have a cabinet position. He translated Virgil's Aeneid with a touch that won praises from men who were ready to have found fault with it.

At 19 he stepped into the world, but not to go back to Buckfield. For two years he taught school in Westford, Mass., and with the money he saved, took the Harvard law course. He was admitted to the bar in 1861.

He had visions of a practice in his native town and opened an office there at once. In all the time he waited and hoped there came to him but one solitary fee, 25 cents. The disappointment was not without its balance, however, for while there he got his first taste of politics, as delegate to the Republican state convention in 1862. He sought a broader field at once. With such disthere was little choice but to go. Entering the office of Stillman B. Allen, in Boston, he was, in time, admitted to partnership, a firm which continued for seventeen years. He retired in 1876, be-

He failed to win first place on the ticket, but was nominated lieutenant governor on the successful ticket. He defeated Henry L. there being no competitor. Harvard conferred LL. D. upon him in 1882, and in that year he was named to deliver the 100th Fourth of July oration in Boston. Witness' attorney bought up the agricultural implements of the Phoenix company at auction in New York city. Mr. Palmer asked witness whether if he had taken the "heetograph" notes offered him by defendants and also the agricultural implements he wouldn't have less owing to him now. Aubrey was to come to New York with me, but Spencer and he went in a room and when they came out Spencer said he didn't see his way dear to let Aubrey go.

Witness said that at that time Aubrey said he was going to leave the Phoenix company on account of receiving only a small salary, and enter the commission business. "I told him that for all the goods he would sell for me I would give him a commission."

"Then you had confidence that Auorey was an honest man?" asked Paltrade at this time didn't you regard May him as an honest man?" "No, sir, I did not."

"But still you wanted to do business "I wanted the goods from him and intended to pay him for them." The witness, in answer to a question of Mr. Palmer, admitted that the postal was written after witness had Spencer and Aubrey arrested on the charge of onspiracy.

SOLD BELOW MARKET PRICE. Fred F. Turner, of this city, testified that he knew Spencer for eight or nine years and knew Aubrey for one year. Did business for the Phoenix Contract company in this city. "I went to Scranton at the time the Phoenix company was organized," said Mr. Turner. "In conversation with Mr. Spencer he told me that the company was going to sell goods below their market value in order to secure money to pay notes which Spencer had given in New York. I went to New York and sold 1,000 kegs of nails for the Phoenix company to a broker-James A. Farrell. They were sold for $2 'base.' The next day I sold two cars of cast iron water pipe to the Spring Brook Water company, Wilkes-Barre, at $19 a gross ton. At the same time I sold the Plymouth Water company four cars of pipe at the same price per ton. The sales were below the ruling market price. I also sold Phelps, Straw & Co., through George Lewis, 2,000 kegs of sale of a carload of cut nails to C. Morgans' Sons for 32 'base.' After that the Plymouth Water company, for $19 a gross ton. This was below the ruling market price as was also the sale of the nails. A carload of soiled pipe was shipped here by Koons & Co. to the Phoenix company which turned it over to me. I sold it to several figms in this city. The aggregate amount was nine tons and I sold it at fifteen per cent. less than the market price, on the average. A carlond of 247 kegs of nails which Mr. Spencer had informed me was refused by Mr. Farrell, of New York, were sent to me at this city. within a month after they reached here I shipped the nails to the Phoenix Contract company, Scrunton. sales were for each under Mr. Aubrey's

MARKETS AND STOCKS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Feb. 9.—Speculation was dull today with the sole exception of the industrial group in which there was a free selling for the short account as well as more or less liquidation by holders. Sugar declined from 11314 to 111% and closed at the lowest price of the day, Tobacco made an equally sharp decline, opening at 71% and later selling at 65%. Leather preferred yielded about a point. The announcement that Charles R. Flint, of the United States Rubber company, will be called upon next week to testify before the committee was followed by a decline of 2%&2% in the emmon and preferred stocks respectively. Consolidated Gas was sold down a point. The railway list offered a sharp contrast to the weakness of the Industrials. Despite the duliness, railway stocks held remarkably firm. THEY RIDICULE IT.

MANY PEOPLE RIDICULE THE IDEA OF AN ABSOLUTE CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA AND STOMACH TROUBLES.

Ridicule, However, Is Not an Argument, and Facts Are Stubborn Things.

Stomach troubles are so common and in many cases so obstinute to cure that people are upt to look with suspicion on any remedy claiming to be a radical, perma-nent cure for dyspepsia and indigestion. Many such pride themselves on their acuteness in never being humbugged, es-petally on medicines.

This fear of being humbugged may be carried too far; so far, in fact, that many persons suffer for years with weak digestion rather than risk a little time and money in faithfully testing the claims of a preparation so reliable and universally a preparation so reliable and universally used as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Now Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are vastly different in one important respect from ordinary proprietary medicines for the reason that they are not a secret patent medicine, no secret is made of their ingredients, but analysis shows them to contain the natural digestive ferments, pure aseptic pepsin, the digestive acids. Golden Seal, bismuth, hydrastis and nux. They are not cathartie, neither do they act powerfully on any organ, but they cure indigestion on the common sense plan of indigestion on the common sense plan of digesting the food eaten promptly, thor-oughly before it has time to ferment, sour and cause the mischlef. This is the only secret of their success. Cathartic pills never have and never can cure indigestion and stomach troubles be-cause they act entirely upon the bowels. whereas the whole trouble is really in the
